PRESS CONFERENCE: LOOK TO THE HILLS FOR A VETERANS CEMETARY

Anaheim Hills, February 18, 2020

Our veterans are overdue on the promise of a hometown cemetery. At the Gypsum Canyon site, we have the chance to recreate Arlington National Cemetery, only nestled right here in the Third District.

Supervisor Don Wagner invited Chairwoman Michelle Steel to join him for a press event, giving a lay of the land to our honored veterans, the media – and by extension – the public. Tours were provided to illustrate the land's potential use.

The Board of Supervisors transferred 283 acres of land to the Orange County Cemetery District in 2018 to dodge political disputes and build a veterans' cemetery immediately. And Supervisor Wagner is working with a sense of urgency to serve our nation's living generation of veterans and allied veterans, including heroes from the Korean and Vietnam Wars.

We have a suitable site in Anaheim Hills. We now urge the State to do the right thing: Recognize it. Study it. Fund it. Build it.

Working Wardrobes Gets a Resolution

Hall of Administration, Santa Ana

On February 11, the Board of Supervisors presented a resolution to Jerri Rosen, CEO and Founder of Working Wardrobes, a nonprofit organization that has changed the lives of nearly 100,000 men, women, veterans, and young adults overcoming difficult challenges. May the resolution spark hope as Working Wardrobes rebuilds and rises from the ashes after a devastating fire. Jerri and Working Wardrobes has all the support from the County as they start a new chapter.

IN THE COMMUNITY

Demolition Day at the County of Orange Building 14

Santa Ana, Ca

Supervisor Wagner and colleagues at the Board led a ceremony commemorating phase two of renovating old government complexes. The effort is to reduce costly maintenance of out-of-date infrastructures and save taxpayer dollars.

On February 19, the 50-year old Public Defender's Office at the corner of West Civic Center Drive/North Ross Street was demolished, making way for a more energy-efficient facility.

The new building will be a twin design to its next-door neighbor: County Administration South. Upon completion, County Administration North will be the new home of the Board of Supervisors, the County CEO, including several other service-oriented departments. Here's to honoring fresh beginnings in Orange County.

Supervisor Wagner Sponsors the 25th Annual "Conditions of Children" Community Forum

(Irvine, Calif.) February 19 – It was a packed room with 74 people attending the 25th Annual Report forum. The report studies four interdependent focus areas: Good Health, Economic Well-Being, Educational Achievement, and Safe Homes and Communities.

Supervisor Wagner thought it was essential to present this information to the public, especially with his passion for education and his service on the Community College District Board.

The Orange County Department of Education presented on promising models.

Each focus area includes the most recent data for indicators to assess improving or worsening trends over ten years.

The audience learned “the achievement gap is closing for socioeconomically disadvantaged students as their high school dropout rates continued to decline, while the overall percentage of dropouts for the county remained steady.”

Local Leaders: Arroyo Elementary Kids Help Save Lives North Tustin, CA

You can make a big difference at any age.

They learned life-saving blood platelets are in short supply, and kids like their beloved, baseball-playing classmate — Trenton — must be armed with them to battle cancer.

Because they want all kids to stay alive as long as possible, they are rallying as many parents and adults as possible to donate life-saving blood.

Excellent work, Arroyo students!
Let's wish them luck at their blood drive on...

NEW VOTING SYSTEM

Outreach

We're on the cutting edge of voter outreach and our community engagement efforts span Orange County. At every step along the way, our devotion to engage voters in new and unique ways ensures people are aware of the voting process and the services we provide.

We are a leader when it comes to voter outreach programs – such as our award winning MyBallot student election program, Community Election Working Group (CEW), Election Academy, Street Team, Fleet, and Booth events – and more.

To find out how we can partner with your community visit ocvote.com/outreach

Elections

Voting should not be complicated. That's why we've worked hard to simplify the process, while maintaining adequate protections to ensure voter confidence. We've developed tools for you to verify information in your voter record and track your ballot from start-to-finish. Plus, once the election is over, you can view up-to-the-minute results, maps, and data to help you track the progress of contests that you're interested in.

For a complete overview of the services we offer visit ocvote.com/elections

Voting Options

Elections are no longer a one-day event. Voting begins the month before any election day. Take advantage of the alternatives available to avoid congestion – from voting-at-home, drive-thru ballot drop-off, in-person voting options, ballot return via United States Postal Service, or personally delivering your ballot to us – the choice is yours.

The Secretary of State's Office has advised the Registrar of Voters that three qualified parties are allowing voters not affiliated with a political party (No Party Preference voters) to vote for their parties' candidates in the 2020 Presidential Primary Election. The parties allowing non-affiliated voters to do so are the Democratic Party, American Independent Party, and the Libertarian Party.

Q: As a No Party Preference Voter, why did I receive a postcard?

A: Since you are registered as No Party Preference, you received a postcard explaining that you have the option to vote for candidates of qualified parties if they notified the Secretary of State that they are allowing non-affiliated voters to do so. You can request a vote-by-mail ballot from the Democratic Party, American Independent Party or the Libertarian party by returning the postcard, or online at ocvote.com/npp. You can also call our office to make this request at 714-567-7600.

Q: Why are only three parties listed on the postcard and not all the other qualified parties, including the Republican, Green, and Peace and Freedom Parties?

A: Only the Democratic, American Independent, and Libertarian Parties notified the Secretary of State that they are allowing non-affiliated (No Party Preference) voters to vote for candidates of their parties.

Q: Why didn't the other parties allow No Party Preference voters to vote for their candidates?

A: This was a decision made by each political party, not the Registrar of Voters. Contact the political parties for more information.

Q: If I am a No Party Preference voter, how can I request a ballot for the Republican Party, Green Party, or Peace and Freedom Party?

A: You need to re-register with that party. You can fill out a paper registration form or register online at ocvote.com/register.

ORANGE COUNTY

CHILDREN & FAMILIES COMMISSION

The Orange County Board of Supervisors is seeking applications from qualified candidates to serve on the First 5 Orange County Children and Families Commission.

Recruitment is being conducted for three seats on the nine-member board; two are in the health category and one is in the education category.

Commissioners will help advance First 5 OC's Strategic Plan and support the goals of connecting and enhancing the systems of care to improve outcomes for young children and their families.

Commission members are appointed by the Orange County Board of Supervisors. Commissioners serve a two-year term, meet six times per year, serve on ad-hoc committees, and represent First 5 Orange County at community events.

The recruitment is open to new applicants and current members. Apply here.

HUMAN RELATIONS COMMISSION OF ORANGE COUNTY'S GOODWILL PROGRAM

Does your small company, large business, school, individual philanthropy, faith organization, community group or government enterprise deserve special recognition from the County of Orange?

The Human Relations Commission of Orange County has developed an exciting new program to spotlight the good works of numerous OC enterprises - from one-person operation to large corporations. We are interested in publicly honoring different groups which have reflected significant progress in improving human relationships and effective communication in the workplace environment. This includes minimizing or eliminating bias and discrimination around disability, gender, nationality, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, age, and financial position. We are particularly interested in acknowledging special programs which promote the health, welfare and human rights of ALL Orange County residents.

Criteria

- 1. Evidence of small company, large business, school, individual philanthropy, faith organization, community group or government enterprise that has worked collaboratively and effectively to achieve goals or performance criteria.
- 2. Evidence that a major obstacle of bias or prejudice was overcome (disability, gender, nationality, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, age, and financial position.)
- 3. Evidence of resolved, major conflicts among persons or groups (personality differences, styles of leadership, etc.)
- 4. Elimination of hate crimes and incidents in the work place - through life coaching, counseling sessions, or mediation. Individuals are able to reveal increased understanding and compassion for one another.
- 5. Observed role models of cooperative, respectful and effective communication and behavior ALREADY in effect.
- 6. Unusual acts of courage, heroism, compassion for others, and good deeds.

Please explain in detail why your nomination should be considered for this prestigious recognition. Kindly submit a maximum one-page outline.

Return your nomination to the Orange County Human Relations Commission's address below:
1801 East Edinger Ave., Suite 120,
Santa Ana, CA 92705
